

Welcome

DON'T MISS THESE MUST-SEE EVENTS

Where you'll find us in July

RETRO ROCKS

Jenny Brewer,
acting assistant editor

I am a nostalgic at heart, which is why I'll be heading to London's South Bank this month for the second annual Vintage festival. It runs from 29 to 31 July and is the creation of Wayne Hemingway (see this month's Profile) and his wife, Gerardine. Celebrating design, art, film, music and fashion from the 1920s to the 1980s, with live music, dance workshops and plenty of vintage retailers, it celebrates the best of British bygone culture — frocks and all!
www.vintagebyhemingway.co.uk

HARBOUR LIGHTS

Tim Wallace, editor

I'll be making my way to Chelsea Harbour to check out the KLC School of Design's Summer Exhibition. Running from 11 to 13 July, it's a great opportunity for students to show off their hard work and cutting-edge designs. KLC tutor, Steven Separovich, says the aim of this year's event is to 'provoke a wealth of experiences — intellectual, emotional and physical... it will provide a fresh variation on the 2010 exhibition, and the idea of the visitor's "journey" will be paramount.' www.klc.co.uk

Tim Wallace
Editor

As the new editor of idfx, I'm really looking forward to getting out and about and meeting as many of you as I can in the months ahead. One of my main priorities so far has been to review the content of the magazine and get more of a feel for what you, the readers, want to see in here. There's much to celebrate in the world of design and the team at idfx welcomes your thoughts, opinions and ideas on how we can improve things. So no matter what part of the industry you work in, I'd be very interested to get your feedback. Feel free to let me know how you think we can take the magazine forward, what you think its strengths and weaknesses are and how you would like to get involved. I look forward to hearing from you.

E: tim.wallace@idfxmagazine.com twitter @idfxmagazine

design • engineer • deliver leading edge technology for bathroom professionals

+44 (0)1761 241133

www.bathroom-engineering.co.uk

sales@bathroom-engineering.co.uk

Wet Room Floor System
1200mm x 1200mm